Holiday Celebrations @ JCCC

Celebrations and holidays are an important part of any community, including our classrooms. As educators, we make intentional decisions about what celebrations are more for adults and what are appropriate for children. We are careful to ensure that celebrations do not supplant other valuable learning experiences. We do not say "no" to celebrations, but instead, we give careful thought to how they:

- Honor the diversity within our programs.
- Are reflective and respectful of the classroom community.
- Create a sense of belonging.
- Provide a developmentally appropriate and meaningful experience for children.
- Engage families.

Growing Readers 25th Anniversary Book Drive

Bright Horizons is celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Growing Readers campaign, with a company-wide goal of collecting 25,000 books. To do our part, our center has set a goal of 1,300 books (or more!). So far, we have collected 1,257 books, which means we have almost met our goal!

Thank you to everyone who has donated! Let's keep the momentum going to meet our goal. Just 43 more to go!
